2011 Cuvèe Elisabeth Tradition;

Colour: Intense yellow

Nose: Pronounced planty, vegetal nose: fern, ivy, lemongrass, chives and olive pesto, garden cucumber. The interplay of all the flavours is like an exquisitely cooked dish.

Palate: The stable acidity certainly gives the wine its still lively character and emphasises its extremely dry style, which is not usually the case with Cuvèe Elisabeth. On the palate, the wine is rather more austere, but is accompanied by a rich minerality and salinity. Slenderly built with more austere notes, certainly not a classic with elegance, it is nevertheless likely to become a favourite with connoisseurs after the first sips. (© p@ulabosch)
